At the time of its organization, in 1874, the building consisted of a brick structure, three stories above the basement, 75x75 feet, in the form of a Greek cross. The school opened in this building with over 100 students. It continued growing more rapidly until in 1886 the demand for more room was such that during the summer it became necessary to make an extensive addition to the College building to accommodate the increasing attendance, and the following year (1887), to erect a dormitory (known as the West Hall) for lady students. The National Bank of Battle Creek. This well-known banking institution is successor to the old First National Bank which was organized in 1863 with a capital stock of $100,000. In 1883 the First National was succeeded by the National Bank, and the capital stock was increased from $100,000 to $150,000. The present officers consist of V. P. Collier, president, Chas. Austin, vice-president, James Boughton, cashier. Its board of directors consists of the above-named gentlemen and Messrs. E. C. Nichols, Wm. Merritt, F. G. Shepard, and S. J. Titus. This bank pays 4% interest on time deposits in its savings department. They do an extensive business, and their bank is considered one of the solid banks of the State.

The Public Schools of Battle Creek. The board of education consists of E. W. Lamoreaux, Mrs. M. G. Briggs, J. W. Bailey, Mrs. A. E. Graves (deceased), Charles M. Ranger, and Phineas H. Butler.

The officers of the board are: E. W. Lamoreaux, president; Mrs. M. G. Briggs, sectetary; J. W. Bailey, treasurer; and F. W. Arbury, superintendent.

The public schools of Battle Creek are arranged upon the usual Michigan plan of three departments, primary, grammar, and high school. They occupy at present nine different buildings, valued at about $235,000.

The public school library is one of the finest in the State, containing over 12,000 volumes. The high school department, which is on the accepted list in all courses to the University of Michigan, is well equipped for carrying on the latest methods of work in science and literature. Thirty four students were graduated from this department in June, 1894. The large non-resident attendance proves that the Battle Creek High School is well adapted to their wants and needs. The schools are well instructed by a corps of sixty-five teachers, most of whom have had rare prepartion for the work, many of them being graduates of our State University and normal school. The following facts show something of the growth of the past ten years. During the year 1883-1884 the schools occupied four buildings, paid $14,200 for teachers' salaries, enrolled 1747 pupils, and employed 33 teachers. During the year 1893-1894, nine buildings were occupied, $29,600 was paid to the sixty-five teachers, while the enrollment increased to 2795.

Thunder, James, farmer of Fredonia township, was born in East Kent, Eng., July, 1840. He came with his parents to America in 1844, and they soon located in Fredonia township, where our subject has resided for the past fifty years. He was married when 28 years of age to Miss Eliza Jinks, also a native of England. Mr. Thunder's parents continued to reside in Fredonia township until their death, his father dying in 1874 and his mother in 1888. Mr. Thunder is now the owner of a beautiful farm on Section 11, Fredonia township, which he manages in a successful manner.

The Sanitarium, Battle Creek. This well-known institution for caring for the sick was founded in 1866, and was known for several years as the Health Reform Institute. When first established, the building consisted of but one small, two-story wooden building, called the main building (which was capable of accommodating about twenty patients), and a half dozen cottages. Under the management of Dr. J. H. Kellogg, who became connected with the enterprise as physician in-chief about 1872, it was found that the demand for treatment was so great that in the spring of 1877 the construction of a new brick veneer main building was begun, which was completed the following year. This building was capable of accommodating about one hundred and fifty patients. The name was also changed at this time from Health Reform Institute to the Sanitarium. In 1884 it was again found necessary to enlarge the building, and a five-story addition was built at the south end of the main building. In 1888 a hospital accommodating one hundred and fifty beds was erected a few rods north of the main building. The size of this building is 100x60 feet, five stories high. In 1890 the main building was raised one story in height, and a six-story addition erected at its north end. The present buildings of the institution are capable of accommodating from four to five hundred patients. In the summer of 1893 the number of employees engaged at the Sanitarium was about three hundred, and to accommodate this large force of workers a dormitory four stories high was erected, which was completed in 1894.

In connection with the Sanitarium is operated what is known as the Sanitarium Food Co. They do an extensive business in the line of manufacturing health foods, and their products find a ready market throughout this and foreign countries.

The management is ably conducted by the following named officers: J. H. Kellogg, superintendent; G. H. Murphy, treasurer; W. H. Hall, steward; and L. McCoy, secretary. Its facilities for caring for the sick are unsurprassed, and it enjoys the reputation of being the largest and most prosperous institution of its kind in the world.

The Williams House, the leading hotel of Battle Creek, is now being operated by Messrs. Wm. Stoddard and Chas. E. Humphrey. Mr. Stoddard is a native of this State, having been born in Concord in 1847, and received his education in the county schools and Albion College. For a number of years he traveled through the West, being an employee of the A. T. & S. F. R. R., as surveyor, and later as traveling salesman in California for a wholesale house. Returning to Jackson Co., in 1874, he entered into mercantile business until in 1883, when he removed to Groton, South Dakota, where he was for ten years successfully engaged in farming and mercantile business, and where he still retains quite extensive farming and business interests. His father, Samson Stoddard, was one of the pioneer physicans of Jackson County, where he settled in 1831, and was the first clerk and treasurer of that county.

Mr. Chas. E. Humphrey, the junior proprietor, is a native of New York, having been born in Bennetts-ville that State. In 1872 he came to Michigan locating in Kalamazoo, where he held a position as clerk in mercantile houses. Here he remained three years when he went to Jackson, entering the drug trade which he conducted until 1887. Shortly after this, he removed to Nashville, Tenn., where he engaged in the mercantile business until 1893, returning in that year to Jackson where he resided, representing the North Western Life Insurance Co., of Milwaukee, until becoming a resident of Battle Creek.

The house, which is modern, centrally located, and well furnished, has a frontage of 120 feet, is four stories, contains upwards of 100 rooms, and a dining hall with a seating capacity of 150. Since taking charge of the Williams House in April 1894, the present management have thoroughly renovated and greatly improved it in many ways, leaving no just grounds now for complaint by the public of the lack of hotel service or accommodations in Battle Creek. This is owing largely to the personal supervision which the proprietors give to each department of the institution. Their genial manners and tempting table make this house one of the most pleasant in the State.

Thomas, Chas. E., attorney at law, and the present. postmaster at Battle Creek, was born in this city, Nov 28, 1844. Received his early education in the public schools of Battle Creek, and later entered the law department of the University of Michigan. Mr. Dibble soon retired from this firm and interested himself in the building of railroads. The firm name was then changed to Brown & Thomas, which existed until Mr. Brown's death in 1887. Since that time Mr. Thomas has practiced alone. Mr. Thomas is interested in the Advance Thresher Co., of this place, being one of the directors of this company, and has acted as attorney for some years. He is also a member of the board of education and filled the office of secretary from 1883 to 1891. Our subject was married March 30, 1881, to Miss Mary Houck, a resident of Sheridan township. To this union have been born two children, a son and a daughter. Mr. Townsend is the owner of one of the finest farms in Marengo township, and is well known as one of the enterprising and solid farmers of Calhoun county.

He was wounded at the battle of Petersburg, Va., being shot in the right leg below the knee, which was afterward amputated. He was discharged from service June 24, 1865. In 1876 he purchased the farm which he now owns and which he has improved from time to time until it is now one of the most comfortable homes in Calhoun county. He was married Dec. 20, 1877, to Miss Sophia Hodge. To this union have been born seven children. Mr. Traut has never taken any active interest in politics or sought public office. He is a member of G. A. R., Post 122, at Assyria Center. He is well known throughout the township and county and respected by all.

Trump, Edwin. The city of Battle Creek can boast of a large number of live, energetic business men, in many of her different lines of business, yet we doubt if any have achieved greater success than the subject of this mention, Mr. Edwin Trump, founder of the Edwin Trump dry goods and carpet business of this city. Mr. Trump is a native of this State, having been born at Highland, Oakland Co., Mich., April 27, 1839. He received his education in the schools of the State, and while yet a boy, began clerking in a dry goods store at Fenton. He later on in his life engaged in the banking business in the same place and followed it for a number of years. For the past fifteen years, however, he has been engaged in his present line of business, first at Reed City and East Saginaw, having operated stores in both these places. In 1887 Mr. Trump came to Battle Creek, and has been a resident of this place since that time. On entering business in this city, he inaugurated a new system, namely, A STRICTLY CASH STORE. This system he has found to be a decided success from many standpoints, one of the chief advantages being that he has but one price for everybody. A child can secure the same bargains as the most experienced shopper. Besides carrying a general line of dry goods and notions, Mr. Trump carries a complete line of carpets and curtains. This department occupies the entire second floor of his building, and is the complete line in the city. His prices are such that prospective purchasers cannot afford to buy elsewhere before inspecting this stock. In 1893 Mr. Trump erected one of the best business blocks in the city of Battle Creek. It is located on W. Main St., with a street front of 66 feet and 100 feet deep. It is three stories in height and erected of pressed brick and stone. It is undoubtedly one of the handsomest buildings in the city, as the accompanying cut will show. Its inside arrangement displays the same good taste that its owner shows in all departments. It is supplied with drinking fountains and also with a reception room, for the benefit of lady customers. The rooms are large and well lighted, and it is in every way a model dry goods store. Mr. Trump is well known in Battle Creek and vicinity, and by close attention to business and by a study of the necessities and desires of customers, he has succeeded in building up a business which has not only been profitable to himself, but one that the citizens of the place take a just amount of pride in pointing out to strangers or visitors.

THE GALE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

OF ALBION, MICHIGAN.

OMETHING over a half century ago the little village of Moscow, in Hillsdale Co., Mich., awoke from its rural slumbers to the fact that plows were actually being made in their very midst. Two of its inhabitants, Mr. Geo. Gale, and his son, Mr. O. C. Gale, were the authors of the conception, and immediately began bringing this into material shape.

This was not the time of improved machinery. There was not even a saw-mill in Hillsdale county. These hardy enterprising men went into the woods, felled the trees, hewed out the beams, handles, and standards, then returned and cast the remainder of the plow, a little rough in appearance, but honestly built and of the best materials obtainable. These crude implements justly received all praise. This marked an era in the growth of a mammoth concern. To this day the Gale Manufacturing Co. make only the finest grade of implements, the best that honest workmanship and materials can produce.

Ten years later, O. C. Gale sold his interests at Moscow and started another factory in connection with his brother, N. B. Gale, which was in operation for two years, when the latter sold his interest to A. J. Gale. They continued until 1861, when O. C. Gale transferred his interests to Horatio Gale.

In 1864 the factory was removed to Albion, when a co-partnership was formed with O. C. Gale & E. W. Hollingsworth. In 1868, on account of the lack of adequate quarters, they erected a substantial two-story brick building on the cite now occupied by the Albion Malleable Iron Works. Additions were frequently made, and the capital increased from time to time, when in July, 1887, the stock was purchased by a company represented by the following board of directors: H. K. White, president; Horatio Gale, vice-president; F. A. Alsdorf, secretary and treasurer; H. R. Stoepel, general agent; A. J. Gale, superintendent; Geo. H. Gale and E. C. Lester. Having great faith in their plows, and knowing that honesty in handicraft and materials would surely win, they continued with renewed vigor and brought out their celebrated "Big Injun" three-wheel sulky plow, which was patented March 29, 1887, the phenomenal sales of which still continue to increase each year.

In March, 1888, the company was doing such a large business that they became once more crippled for want of room and capacity. They applied to several towns for inducements for location. Albion aroused itself and showed its hand. The city held mass-meetings and decided to bond itself for $30,000, with which amount they purchased the old plant on condition that the company remain in Albion. They therefore purchased a large tract of land, seventeen acres, in the western portion of the city and erected their present plant.

The buildings are handsomely and substantially built of brick, the largest of which is 1000 feet square. They cover over 250,000 square feet of floor space, and are all one story in height, being nicely arranged so that crude materials are continuously and gradually formed into complete implements, which find themselves in a warehouse having a capacity of loading four trains at once. Every part of the plant is lighted by electricity, which is generated by their own electric plant. Their means of prompt transportation are unsurpassed, as they are tracked on every side by the Michigan Central and the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroads.

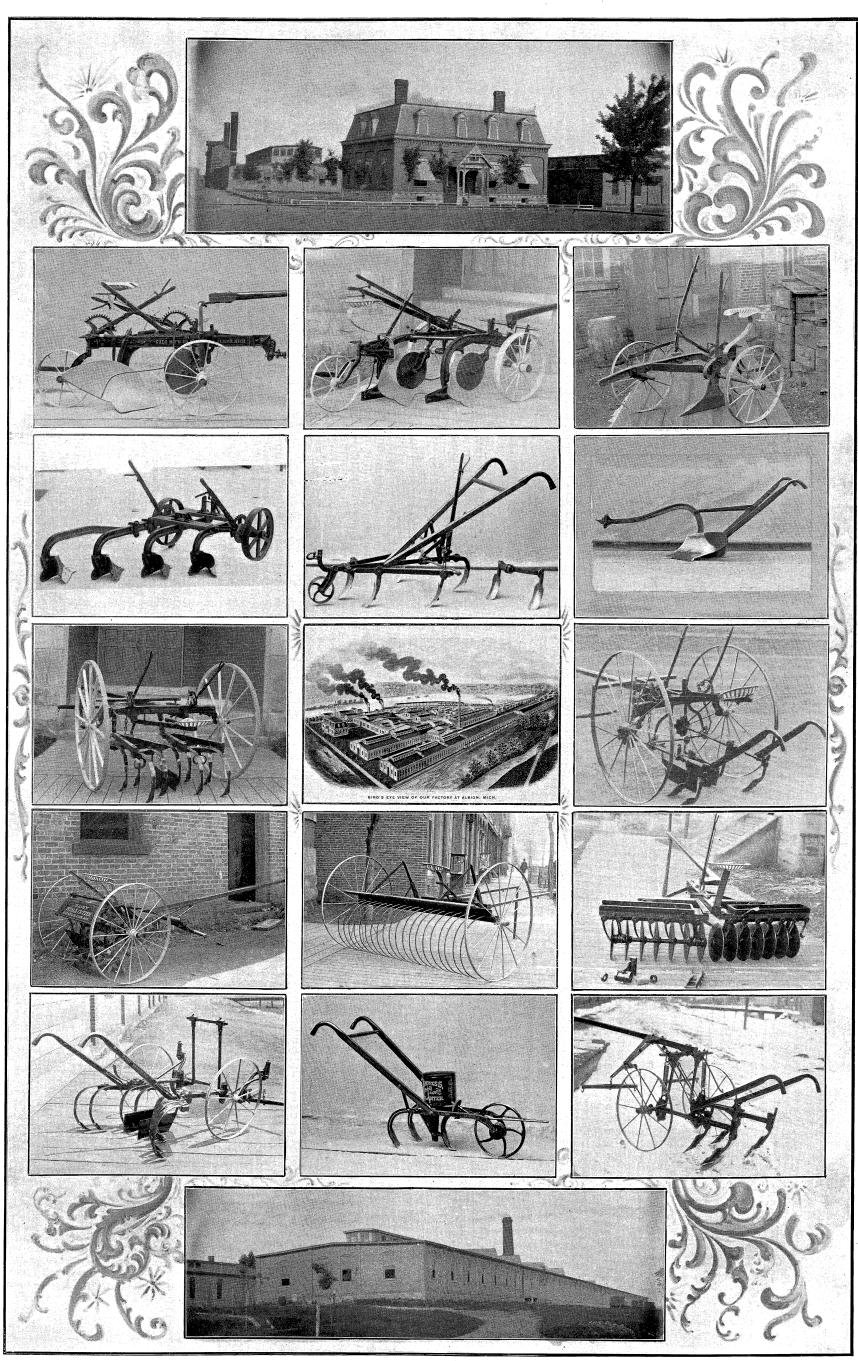

A neat two-story structure of brick, with mansard roof, sets off the foreground of the plant. This is the "home office" of the company. It is tastily fitted in antique oak and beautifully carpeted and furnished.

In 1890 they purchased the patents, licenses, patterns, etc., of the Albion Manufacturing Company, thus obtaining the right to make and sell its lines of harrows, cultivators, and rakes; and in 1892 they purchased from the Star Implement Company of Flint, Michigan, their patents, licenses, patterns, etc., coming into possession of its line of star one-horse cultivators. In 1890, when their line was augmented, Mr. Horatio Gale became vice-president, but upon his decease in 1892, Mr. A. E. F. White was chosen his successor. The officers at present are: H. K. White, president; A. E. F. White, vice-president; H. R. Stoepel, secretary and treasurer; E. C. Lester, superintendent.

Since their foundation, the Gale Manufacturing Company have built over 325 different styles of walking, riding, and gang plows; but this is only one line out of many they make. At present they are making the following lines and increasing them each month: All kinds of riding, walking, and gang plows, made of steel, chilled iron or a combination of both, nine styles of two-horse riding cultivators, ten styles of two-horse walking cultivators, five styles of combined two-horse riding or walking cultivators, five styles of one-horse cultivators, nine sizes of disc harrows, ten styles of hay rakes, spring tooth lever harrows, spike tooth lever harrows, cotton and corn planters, stalk cutters, bean harvesters, broadcast seeders, grass seeders, hitching posts and stepping blocks, etc., etc.

They have their business regulated by one grand system which divides and subdivides all into departments which are to each other as the working parts of a large machine. They employ, directly and indirectly, between thirty and forty agents who travel all over the globe, and are represented by thirty-four general agencies and transfer depots in this country and abroad, which control thousands of smaller agencies. Their foreign trade has assumed such proportions that they were compelled to locate a branch office in New York City to assist them in this department.

Their marvelous and steady increase is due to the production itself. Their employees are skilled to the man; they follow the laws of nature, and produce implements that are the simplest and therefore the strongest, cheapest, and most admirably adapted to work the soil that Dame Nature has given us. It is an open secret with those who handle their goods that they are "on top" because they keep fully abreast of the times, put nothing on the market except what has been fully tested and proved a success, and do business in a strictly first-class, honorable way.

APPENDIX.

Abbey, Samuel I., of Battle Creek, claims New York as his native State, and place of birth North Brookfield, where he was born May 13, 1846. He acquired his early education at Hamilton, N. Y., which was completed by a course at the Bryant and Stratton Business College, of Rochester, the same State. In 1877 he emigrated to Michigan, taking up his home in Battle Creek, where he has since been engaged in the real estate and loan business. Mr. Abbey is not only a gentleman well and favorably known, but is a hustler in his line, and has a most complete list of city and farm property for sale, exchange, or rent. He is also proprietor of a first-class livery, at 169 Champion St., where the public may be served upon short notice with a good line of buggies or carriages, and the best of horses.

Eldred, Nelson, banker and capitalist, Battle Creek, was born in Otsego Co., N. Y., Jan. 9, 1822, and emigrated to Michigan with his parents in 1831, locating on Climax prairie. Caleb Eldred, the father of our subject, erected the first mill built in Kalamazoo county, which was located at Comstock. The son, Nelson, received such educational advantages as the common schools of that day afforded, subsequently taking a course at the Kalamazoo College, then known as "The Institute." Mr. Eldred resided upon his farm of three hundred acres near Climax until 1865, when he came to Battle Creek, engaging in the hardware business under the firm name of Eldred & Peters, until 1871, when he became connected with the City Bank, of which institution he has been the president since 1877. The success of this bank is the best recommendation that can be mentioned of Mr. Eldred's business ability, tempered by that conservatism so necessary to the success which he and his business connections have acquired. He was elected a member of the school board in 1868 and mayor of the city of Battle Creek in 1871. Mr. Eldred still retains his farm near Climax, which he operates, as well as another of two hundred acres in Battle Creek township.

Phillips, James, is a native of England, where he was born, Dec. 21, 1821, in the parish of Cloddock and county of Hereford. After receiving a liberal education in his native parish, he was engaged as traveling salesman throughout England, for a timber merchant, until 1852, when he emigrated to America, shortly afterwards settling in Battle Creek, and has resided in his present home, 547 W. Main St., for the past 40 years. Besides being engaged in farming, he has other extensive real estate interests in Battle Creek. The addition in the western part of that city, which bears his name, was platted and put up on the market by him. Mr. Phillips is a Republican in politics, and on that ticket held the office of highway commissioner fourteen years, and Justice of the Peace some five years. Our subject has twice been married; in the first instance to Miss Lydia Townsend, Nov. 26, 1856, who died Aug. 13, 1883. For his second wife, to whom he was married March 26, 1884, he chose Sophia Williams. Mr. Phillips is well and most favorably known to the citizens of his vicinity.

Crosby, Will A., attorney at law, Battle Creek. This gentleman, whose portrait was omitted from the plate of the Calhoun County Bar through mistake, was born in this city, June 11, 1863, and received his early education in the schools of the same place, from which he graduated in 1881, afterward taking a course in Stone's Business College. He read law under the able tutorship of Hulbert and Mechem of his native city, and was admitted to the Calhoun county bar in 1885. Shortly after admission he removed to Osceola Co., Mich., where he served for several terms as city attorney of Le Roy. In 1890 Mr. Crosby returned to Battle Creek where he soon_resumed the practice of his profession, and may be found comfortably located in the post-office block, fully prepared to look after the interests of his clients in the various courts.

Hamilton, Clinton L., of Battle Creek, was born May 21, 1866, in Chenoa, Ill., and first took up his residence in the city of Battle Creek in 1885. Mr. Hamilton attended the public schools of his native State, and completed his education, with a four years' course in the Battle Creek College. He is well known to the citizens of Battle Creek and vicinity, having been engaged in the plumbing business of the city for some three years, and is now serving the people in the capacity of constable, seemingly with entire satisfaction.

Hodges, Fred F., manufacturer of Metal Hame Tugs, Fine Harness and Horse Boots, and dealer in carriages, horse-clothing, robes, blankets, etc., of No. 38, E. Main St., Battle Creek; was born in that city in . 1862. It may be said that Mr. Hodges' life and education has been in line with his present business, as he began working at the trade of harness making at the age of fourteen. In 1885 he began business for himself, and the complete stock which he carries and extensive trade he enjoys speaks for his success. He does not confine himself only to Battle Creek and vicinity, but is building up a good demand for his superior make of goods in South Africa, where he has placed some 100 sets of harness during the present year. He is the patentee of the "Hodges Bros. Metal Hame Tug," which but requires examination to commend itself to all users of coach, farm, or draft harness. The "Quarter Boot," manufactured by this house, is fast meeting with the general approval of the leading horsemen of the country, being worn by some of the best of horses, among them "Dancourt" and "Lord Clinton." S. A. Browne, the well-known horse breeder, of Kalamazoo, pronounces it "the best Quarter Boot in the market."
